Content

Yes, an AhsayCBS license must be applied to your AhsayCBS server running in replication receiver mode.

The licensing model has changed since the introduction of AhsayCBS. An AhsayCBS license is required per running instance, even for AhsayCBS server that is in replication receiver mode (e.g. server that is receiving replication data).

Contact Ahsay sales representatives if you need any further clarification on the license model, or to request for a quotation.

Note : Make sure that there are sufficient replication modules (per device to replicate) on the license applied to the AhsayCBS server sending the replication data.
